Leavening Strength Tells the Story
The price you pay for baking powder doesn't determine the results you will have on bake day—
You may buy a baking powder for less than Calumet and think you are practicing economy. Don't be misled—the baking you spoil will make those that are successful exorbitant in cost.

CALUMET BAKING POWDER
has successfully proven, during the past thirty years, that it contains more than the ordinary leavening strength. That's why bakers where it is employed never fail to raise properly.
Calumet is used by more housewives, leading chefs, domestic scientists, restaurants, hotels and railroads than any other brand. Millions buy it—you should try it.
A pound can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. cans instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

SCIENTIFIC DATA IS GATHERED IN DETROIT

(By Associated Press)
DETROIT, May 27.—As a contribution to scientific data, Detroit officials have set out to learn the difference in food value between storage eggs and those fresh from the hen.

The test, decided upon by the board of health here, is the first of its kind undertaken, so far as can be learned.

The board has obtained 40 dozen eggs from the farm of James Couzens, mayor of Detroit. Some are to be kept in ordinary temperature, others in an ordinary refrigerator and others in actual cold storage. Next September, when the test will be made, each of the three classes of eggs will be compared, as to their nutritive qualities, with eggs but a few hours old.

TO EMPHASIZE PUBLIC HEALTH RURAL SECTIONS

Scientific Methods May Prevent Disease When Applied in the Proper Manner.

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, May 27.—Need of greater expenditures and more efficiency in rural public health work and of more emphasis on the technical qualifications of health officers was represented by speakers before the section of preventive medicine of the American Medical Association here Monday. Dr. Matthias Nicol of the state health department of New York was one of those who contributed to a discussion of how scientific methods may prevent disease. Dr. A. L. Warren of Topeka, Kas., said that the application of sanitary and hygienic principles by municipal health officers has greatly increased life expectancy in urban districts during the last ten years.

Dr. Warren added that in the same period, rural districts have not progressed satisfactorily, and expressed his belief that equal expenditures and efficient control in country districts would result in a marked lessening of the incidence of typhoid, smallpox, tuberculosis and diphtheria, "which are excellently controlled in many American cities."

Health officers are frequently regarded in the same manner as other holders of governmental positions," Dr. Nicol said, "without taking into account the technical training requirements to qualify for the positions. Health officers should hold their positions subject only to re-examination for cause. Since these positions are usually poorly paid, some provision should be made pensioning those whose salaries are not sufficiently large to permit saving a competence for old age or disability."

Don't forget the dance to be given at Eagles hall Saturday night. Five-piece orchestra with "Bill" Logan manipulating the violin, and "Dutch" Heimick at the ivories. You're going, of course.

SLEEPING SICKNESS BELIEVED CURABLE

(By Associated Press)
ST. LOUIS, May 27.—Cultures and specimens of a bacterial organism believed to be the causative agent of sleeping sickness, or epidemic encephalitis, were submitted today to the section on nervous diseases of the American Medical Association here, by Dr. E. C. Rosenow of the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., Dr. William House of Portland, Ore., reported that in about half of the 145 cases he had observed, the disease left no permanent effect, but that in the remaining 50 per cent there were disturbances of mentality, fatigue, weakness, tremors or other symptoms to indicate that permanent injury had been done.

BONANZA NEWS IS 18 HOURS AHEAD

Morning newspapers have lost their prestige and the reader who would keep abreast of the times subscribes for the evening publications. The reason is simple. The morning sheets only publish a "reshash" of what has occurred the day previous. The world's events are transmitted by wire to the afternoon papers, 18 hours in advance of the morning publications, so why wait this long period to ascertain what is taking place in this old world. The Bonanza invites comparison, both as regards local and telegraph news.
